

Wind Turbine Training Facility

The PTS Wind Turbine Training Facility (WTTF) is a unique open access facility based within the Port of Blyth, one of the UK's premier offshore energy support bases. Funded by the Coastal Communities Fund and coupled with new educational and recreational facilities, the WTTF offers flexibility to deliver activities such as:

- Equipment demonstration before full operation
- Research & development to trial new, innovative technologies
- Development of drone pilots
- Realistic working at height training
- Realistic rope access training
- Blade repair & inspection techniques
- Advanced rescue training
- Emergency response simulation
